NEXT YEAR'S SVP Don Altman and Veep Ed Schneider enjoy a cool drink after a hot campaign. The two were chosen by the student body at last Monday's election.

Musical Variety On Program For Band Concert Tomorrow

Music—everything from "Trauersinfonie" to "Dance with Me, Henry"—will be included on the Wartburg College Concert Band's repertoire tomorrow as they give their annual spring concert in Kessler Gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Recently returned from over the 46-piece concert group is conducted by Ernest G. Hagen of the Wartburg Music Department.

Opening with Beethoven's "Egmont Overture", the band continues with "Paganini" by Persichetti, followed by Wagner's "Trennungsfest". Concluding the first part of the program is "George Washington Bridge" by William Schumann and the "Ballet Far niente" of Jacques Offenbach.

Music Gets Lighter
Lighter music makes up the second half of the program. Beginning with the March "Independents" by Hall, the band follows with the "Trombone Trombones" featuring the trombone section.

Also featured will be "The Foxglove", a saxophone quartet, and "George Gershwin Selections" with Bob Richey, piano, as accompanist.

Other numbers include "Jambou" arranged by Paul VonderLaveille, "Pitter Pat Parade" and various light encores.

Hagen Here Since 1952
Hagen has been on the Wartburg faculty since 1952. He holds his B.A. from St. Olaf College and his M.A. from the State University of Iowa. In addition to study abroad, he has done work with the U. S. Army Band.

Currently serving as assistant professor of instrumental music and music theory, he is the founding conductor of the Wartburg Community Symphony Orchestra.

Bundgaard Athletic Director In 1957

Axel Bundgaard will serve as athletic director of Wartburg College next year, according to an announcement made official yesterday. He will replace Dr. Walter Herial, Physical Department, who has held the position for six years.

Away on leave of absence during the present school year, Bundgaard has been working on W. P. D. at the State University of Iowa. He will assume his previous positions as basketball coach and head of the Physical Educational Department.

Writers Of Tales Win Prize Money

Five dollar prizes were awarded to five first place winners at convocation last Thursday in the Castle Tales literary contest.

Receiving checks were senior Myrna Seal, short story division; freshman Joan Faye, poetry; sophomore Audrey Benson, photography; freshman Iris Heaney and Michael Chellford, in the essay division.

Second place winners included sophomore Bob Leah, short story; freshman Carol Kettler, poetry; and sophomore Ray Fritschel, photography.

Crew Cuts On Stage Tuesday With Blue Barron's Orchestra

By Jean Mess
America's top young vocal group, the Crew Cuts, will make one of its four Iowa personal appearances in Knights Gymnasium Tuesday evening at 8.

Appearing with the quartet is Blue Barron and his orchestra. The two-hour concert is the long-awaited result of several years' efforts by the student body to bring a popular concert to the Wartburg campus. Stan Vogt, sophomore, is chairman of the committee. Profits will be placed in a fund to obtain more popular artists in future years.

Singing church music at Cathedral Choir School in Canada, the Crew Cuts vocalized together as a hobby. Known as the Canada choir until 1954, they appeared on numerous radio shows. Spotted on a television from Cleveland, Fred Strauss interviewed the four and is now their personal manager. With a new billing name, manager and his wife, they will tour this year. The Crew Cuts go London.

Best Investment Yet

The four barbers were undoubtedly the best investment ever made by the young vocalists. Since then they have only gone "longer" once—in their hair.

Rudi Maugeri is baritone and vocal arranger for the group. Together with Pat Barrett, he is writer of "Gee, Don't You, Baby" and other songs, which will be released soon. Johnnie Perkins is the second tenor and treasurer. Ray Perkins, brother to Johnnie, is the bass. An unusual microphone technique, one of the reasons for the group's fame—is the consistent alternation of roles, avoiding the monotony of the solo featured singer with a three man accompaniment.

LT Film Tonight

"Moonlight Sonata," the story of Ignace Paderewski, will be on the Little Theater screen tonight at 8, according to campus movie chairman Myrle Bents, Junior.

Featured Tuesday will be the Crew Cut, Wendy Moore and Blue Barron.

Poses: 'Gold Record'

Crew Cuts' success has led the "Gold Record" for selling one million Mercury recordings of "ShBoom." It is now approaching the two million mark. They are one of the few top vocal groups to tour Europe and play the famous Palladium in two years of Mercury recordings. Crew Cuts have had ten records in the "hit" category, none of them selling less than a quarter million records.

Blue Barron, MGM recording star, brings his orchestra to appear with the quartet. He features vocalists Wendy Moore and Jerry Holmes on his extensive tour.

Tickets for the Knights Gymnasium performance are priced at $1.25 and $1 and may be purchased at the treasurer's office or at the door Tuesday evening.

Van Driel '56 H-C Chairman; More Elections This Week

Ballots held the campus spotlight as latest election returns show Gene Van Driel winning the 1956 Homecoming chairmanship in Thursday's convocation vote.

Monday, students named judges Don Altman to serve as next year's student body president and Ed Schneider to be vice president. 497 students cast ballots in a tight race.

However, 167 votes had to be discarded because of in correct marking.

More Proxy Elections
Class presidential elections are on for this week with primaries scheduled for Monday. Final voting is set for Wednesday.

Nominations for class officers are now open and will continue through April 20. Initial balloting is slated for Monday, May 7, with finals on May 9.

System Same
Election and nomination procedure is the same as last year, according to Elections Committee Chairman Dick Lehmann, senior. Students may nominate themselves or others on blanks in the Student Union Senate office.

Balloting will be conducted in Luther Hall. Voting will be done on the preferential ballot.

Editor Starck To Join Public Relations Staff
Ken Starck, TRUMPET editor, will join the Wartburg Public Relations Department upon graduation May. It was announced yesterday.

An English major, Starck will continue public relations assistant. G. B. Nass, who is taking a year's leave to study at the State University of Iowa, Starck has been active in journalism during his four years at Wartburg.

FOR JACK REENTS

Work, Adventure In Missions

By Leonard Fischman
It was in a Tuesday mail pack that junior Jack Reents slipped a long, dignified-looking letter from his mother. Opening the mail-baggy envelope, he hurriedly tore the letter open and read: "Your ship will leave San Francisco on Aug. 4 for Hawaii and the South Seas. You will transfer to a plane at Sydney, Australia, for the last leg of the journey."

He, along with five other men, recruited from the ranks of the Luther League, will leave for the New Guinea mission fields. They will be members of the third Volunteer Mission Builders Team sent to Northern Mission Fields.

"We will need the hammers and pipe wrenches and push the work," remarked Jack. "As we fill the roles of carpenters, plumbers and other construction workers."

They will see hospitals, schools and houses rise before their eyes as the fruits of their labor.

Mission Board Pools Bill
The Board of Foreign Missions will provide their transportation, work clothing, living quarters, food, plus $150 per year as "pocket money." "In other words," said Jack, "we will be giving two years of our lives to the work of the Lord. It will be an adventure in Christianity."

Missionaries in their own right, they will be examples of following service to Christ. They will spend two years in the mission field facing such hardships as bad weather, mosquitoes and racism. Against the rains which come frequently, dumping 100 inches of water annually on the island.

Many places they will be without electricity, running water and many of the other comforts which are a part of their present homes. Much of their traveling will have to be done on foot over muddy, slippery paths, Reents disclosed.

Varied Vacation Activity
Missionary vacation. Other days off will be spent on horseback trips up into the green, grassyterraced mountains for a view of the elevated valleys below. Time for swimming, sunbathing, and the waters of the river and in the deep blue waters of the sea surrounding the white coral islands will also be allowed.

"We have volunteered for a task which promises hard work and adventure," said Jack. "When we heard this book," he said, "we'll be guided by a love for Christ to give of the best we have to the Master."

Knights Visit Tigers For Twin Bill Today

By Bill Malvin
Playing their second double-header in a row, Wartburg's baseball team meets Iowa Wesleyan at Mt. Pleasant this afternoon.

The Tigers bring a 0-2 conference record into the series after suffering two shutout losses to Luther last weekend.

Still Good Team
Considering the two losses to Luther, Coach Ernest Oppermann warned, "Wesleyan is a better ball club than their showing against Luther indicates. We split two games with them last year."

Oppermann gave right-handers Fred Jaspers and Leon Wehrand the nod as today's starting pitchers. He added that Maynard Midgaard, who looked good in relief at Central, would again be ready in case of difficulty.

Bomhoff Ailing
Bill Bomhoff, veteran first sacker, may see only limited action because of an injury, and Jaspers will probably be at first in the contest if he starts. Pitch Coach Oppermann feels that Jaspers, who has been hitting well all spring, can add additional hitting points to the Knight attack.

The remainder of the lineup will probably remain the same as it was against Central last week.

Divide Couple With Central

Wartburg opened its 1956 baseball season last Saturday at Central by splitting a double-header. The Knights won the opener 14-1 but dropped the final 7-3.

Fred Jaspers and Maynard Midgaard led the Dutch to four hits in the first game, while the Knights collected seven and capitalized on seven Central errors.

Jaspers, who got credit for the win, struck out seven batters and pounded out a bases empty home run to help his own cause. Leading 2-1 going into the third, the Knights broke loose for seven big runs to tie the contest.

The second game proved disastrous for Leon Wehrand as he gave up six runs in the first three innings, and the Knights never got back into the game.

T-Men On Local Links With Kohawk Quintet

An inexperienced Wartburg golf squad is rounding the fairways of the Waverly Country Club with Coach Linkers in their first year instead of the season, as the TRUMPET goes to press.

With only one returning, junior Norm Scott, returning from last year's Iowa Conference championship, Coach Linkers' team's success or failure will be depending on inexperienced material this year.

Cedar Lawn Keeps Narrow Lane Lead

Only a game and a half separates the top-seeded Cedar Lawn kegglers from Waverly Bowls Inn. Sweeping to four straight victories over Meyers' Drug, the Bowl Innites were pined by Bob Campbell's 51st series and a 202 high game in last Wednesday evening bowling. Doug Schmidt hit 150, 194 and 179 for 531 high series, but it was not enough to offset the Ritchie Pontiac pin barge and Cedar Lawn split with the third place five, 2-2.

Larry's checked up another fortnight and added four victories to its win column, all coming over Top Hat Cleaners. Leon Knitt registered his first 200 game by toppling the field on pins in Waverly Dairy Bar made it four straight over Hilltop Cafe.

What's wrong with spring baseball?

"Nothing," I said, slamming shut the sports page I had been studying. "Then why don't drop down to the local diamond and watch the Wartburg one work out. This letter idea followed upon the first like a tasty chaser."

Gathering my things about me, I entered the Luther Hall door once, bunched down, I was executing a canteenback walk and binged into the crisp Iowa breezes. The wind snarled at me, gently doled my cap and began fighting with me for possession of my coat.

Moving on the battle for my cap, I again set sail for the diamond. "Nothing like baseball in the spring," I mumbled. I arrived in the land of the doguogs and base paths with one hand waving stop my head and the other clutching to the collar of my jacket. A foul ball in my direction would have probably paralyzed me.

I watched them "have it around" the infield and then dropped over to watch the pitcher "work out. Sometimes the wind suspended the ball momentarily in the air."

"Windy, huh?" I offered.

"Oh, not bad," returned big Leon Wehrand as the big southpaw broke off a curve that probably would have measured a foot and half. "Sort'a gives a pitcher something to work with," he smiled wryly.

"Yeah, I guess it does," I gulped as he was mugged off another wicked curve.

By that time Coach Oppermann was fungoing some fly balls to the outfielders. He blasted them almost straight up, but the wind still forced the outfielders to scurry back.

"This is almost as bad as last year when you played Central here," I remarked to someone. He nodded.

That was the doubleheader in which the two teams battled each other and the elements, scoring a total of 61 runs between them. The Knights won both contests, 27-17, and 16-3. In the second inning of the first game, Central had the home plate 10 times with the aid of just two singles. The wind did most of the damage.

It all goes to show that there's nothing like baseball in the spring in Iowa. And if that doesn't appeal to you, you know what you can always do with your kite.

Racketeers Court Second Net Victory In Season's Third Start At Dubuque

Knitt racket wielders will be pointing for their second net victory in three outings as they meet Dubuque University on the Spatsino home court today at 1:30 p.m.

Last Saturday the netsters pounded out an impressive 7-0 victory over Coe College but yesterday dropped a 4-2 decision to Lucas, giving them a 1-1 mark.

Fording an inexperienced field, Dubuque dropped a 7-0 decision to Cornell in its first outing, last Saturday. In one of the top matches today, sophomore Les Huth, who moved up to the
